

Eastern Oregon Fall Mini Conference
Saturday November 15th 10:00am-3:00pm
Sponsored by Baker Area Christian Homeschoolers and OCEANetwork

Harvest Church, 3720 Birch Street, Baker City

For more information contact Kristi Flanagan at flanagan_5@msn.com.

Schedule

10:00-10:30 Welcome Opening

10:30-11:30

Dad's Session: Charges of the Father

Mom's Session: Listen for your Child's Learning Style

11:30-12:30

Dad's Session: Practical Family Discipleship

Mom's Session: Help for the Harried Home Educator

Lunch 12:30-1:00

1:00-2:00

Homeschool Success Stories

2:00-3:00

Portrait of a Healthy Homeschool Marriage

Speaker Biography: Kevin and Christine Bullock

Seeing all their children in Heaven is the Bullock's passionate desire and they see home education as a primary tool in turning the hearts of their children toward God. Blessed with three boys and a girl, they have homeschooled from the beginning and now have grades ranging from early elementary to high school. Happily married since '90, their chief hobby is spending time together as a family. They live just outside Eugene and have been involved in their local support group leadership for many years. Kevin is a C.P.A. and Christine is a former Christian School History/Social Studies teacher contented with homeschool duty.

The Charges of a Father- Kevin

Have you ever had your performance evaluated on criteria you didn't even know exist? How would you feel if you reached the Throne of God only to find that you hadn't even touched the surface of what God wanted you to do here on Earth? Do you want to know a secret? The eternal destiny of your children lies primarily on you, Dad! God has given us many heavy responsibilities, most of which we are totally oblivious to. Have you seen other parents wonder where they went wrong with their grown-up kids?

Here we examine the charges of a father set forth by God in His Word, with some helpful ways we've seen help to turn our children's hearts to God.

Practical Family Discipleship-Kevin

Men are called to be the providers, protectors and the "priests" of their homes. But how do you actually "disciple" a 21st century family while balancing jobs and other responsibilities? From family meal table devotions to family worship, Kevin will share what has worked and inspired him to keep learning how to lead his family closer to God.

Help for the Harried Home Educator-Christine

Homeschooling is a full time job. Add our roles as homemaker, helpmeet, co-op teacher etc. and it is no wonder our lives feel harried at times. What can we do to restore a sense of balance and peace to our overly full lives? Learn some home tested techniques ranging from overcoming discouragement, to life organization.

Listen for your Child's Learning Style-Christine

Some children learn by seeing, some by hearing and some learn by jumping on the bed. What kind of learner is your child? How can you start to simply tailor your schooling around that style without adding extra stress? Hear some tips on making your child's God built in style work to their benefit academically.

Homeschool Success Stories-Kevin and Christine

Homeschooling Works! Sharing evidence from personal interaction with homeschool grads and the data gathered by NEHRI, listen as we learn that homeschooling through high school can produce marvelous fruit.

Portrait of a Healthy Homeschool Marriage-Kevin and Christine

We're in the thick of it. We're stretched in all directions. Our schedule fills up quickly. We wear different hats, and sometimes we forget that we're on the same team when our secondary objectives conflict. Homeschool marriages face unusual challenges. So how do we keep it all together? Here we discuss what we've learned so far, and suggest some practices to remain properly aligned with each other, and with our Lord, who lights our path.